About

St Joseph's College is based in Ipswich and is a co-educational independent day school for 2-18 year olds with boarding facilities.

St Joseph's College creates a new future with their recent upgrade to 'Engage Unite', the UK's leading MIS Solution

Having had extensive problems with previous software providers, St Joseph's College decided the best route forward was Double First's flagship product, Engage.

'We are increasingly happy with the software,' said Maureen Turner, MIS Manager. 'Even the staff who were less competent at using the computers now enjoy using the Engage MIS from Double First,' she continued.

And she should know. Having gone through the pain of previous systems not doing what they had promised, Maureen is very precise about her requirements.

Engage from Double First has had a significant time in development, and the latest version does everything an MIS Solution should. From timetables to exams, reports to a Virtual Learning Environment (VLE). And much more.

Prior to selecting Engage, St Joseph's College had been using several systems which all had different databases. Data processing was muddled and relied heavily on manual exporting into Excel and then stitching spreadsheets together manually.

Colin McNicholas, Director of eLearning was full of praise. 'It's the best it's ever been,' he said, 'and the thing we like most is that Engage is one complete, integrated system. This means no more duplication, and all staff see "up to date" information, which leads to a much greater level of confidence.'

Danielle Clarke, Acting Principal, said, 'Engage has been an immense help with reporting and assessments, and especially for creating a whole college database of contacts.'

Engage is a solution that has been designed to help make life easier for all within the school environment. As the most advanced and comprehensive Management Information System on the market, Engage from Double First handles all your school's information.
